2013 Annual Training Briefing Sheet

"Information is of little value if listeners aren't inspired to CHANGE or ACT." Val Van Brocklin

The former State and Federal Prosecutor, Val Van Brocklin's day long training session captivated delegates and earned rave reviews. Providing information that gets results, that makes a difference in people's lives and gives new meaning to the work being done, is the essence of Val's powerful presentation. Combining humor, practical experience and skillful use of intense court room interrogation, Val provided invaluable information to investigators.

BODY LANGUAGE and FACIAL EXPRESSIONS

Reading and interpreting body language (Terry) and reading and interpreting facial emotions (Glenna) provided Investigators with practical, in-depth and insightful information using inter-active sessions and comprehensive information packs.

PNLTFA

PNLTFA was established in 1989 to fulfil the critical need for low cost professional training, and better communications among those who conduct criminal, civil, tax and fraud investigations.

The Association is comprised of public and private employees, dedicated to the administration and enforcement of tax, license, and business registration laws, and to the detection, investigation, and prosecution of fraud.

PNLTFA promotes the coordination of fiscal and other investigations and regulatory activities at all levels of government and in all represented segments of private industry.

BOARD MEMBERS AT 2013 ANNUAL TRAINING IN OLYMPIA

"Over two decades PNLTFA has gained an international reputation for the high quality of the training that it provides at one and two day events. The Board is keen to ensure that the reputation is maintained and enhanced and welcomes suggestions and ideas from members. I also encourage everyone to use their network of fellow investigators to promote the organization and help us provide appropriate technical and practical training in the future."
